PRESIDENT HARDING DISCUSSES WORLD COURT

ADVOCACY OF THE PROPOSAL GROWING MORE VIGOROUS

HARDING COMING CLOSE TO THE BORAH IDEA OF COURT ENTIRELY SEPARATED

DISTINCT FROM THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS AND OUTLAWING WAR AS ITS AIM

(By United Press)
With President Harding, En Route to Pocatello, Idaho, June 28.—"Bill" Borah's state received President Harding today. The president was to speak at Pocatello at noon. The subject was not known in advance, but it was estimated Mr. Harding probably would refer to the World court.

His advocacy of the proposal is growing more vigorous daily, and while his reference to it in Idaho will be such as to not constitute offense to Senator Borah, it probably will be pointed if he decides to mention the subject.

The fact is that Mr. Harding is coming close to the Borah idea of a court separated entirely from the League of Nations and outlawing war. He believes it may be possible to make a working alliance with Borah before the end of the forthcoming senate fight on the proposal. He has been strongly advised to confine his two speeches in Idaho today to agriculture and domestic problems. He will speak at Idaho Falls this afternoon.

The presidential party crossed into Idaho this morning after two days in Utah. Yesterday Mr. Harding's party motored 150 miles to spend three hours in Zion National Park. Mr. Harding and his physician, Dr. Sawyer, rode up Zion Canyon and walked back.

EYE EXPERT BLAMES FOOT AILMENT FOR "ESTRANGED" OPTICS

Chicago, June 28.—If there is an estrangement between your optics or, in other words, if your eyes don't track right, you may be in dire need of the services of a chiropodist.

Thus Dr. Harry C. Paul, chairman of the American Optometrists association in convention here declares if one of your glims begins to flicker or develops the wanderlust, the first thing you should do is slip off your shoes and take the annual spring inventory of the old metatarsals. Let your family optometrist fit you with shoes. In attempting to contest your feet with your eyes it might appear to the casual observer that the optometrists were trying desperately to make both ends meet, but Dr. Paul explains the seeming paradox in this way:

"A man came to us complaining of aphoria, or the turning of one of his eyes," Dr. Paul said. "We examined him and found that there was no error in refraction in the eyes.

"Investigating further, we found he had an abcess under the nail of one toe. That was treated and gradually his eye returned to normalcy. Many such cases can be traced to abcesses in apparently the most remote parts of the body.

"Bootleg liquor drugs, are contributing reasons for eye troubles, about 65 per cent of the people today are in need of spectacles and, if the present rate of increase in defective vision remains unchecked the human race will be blind in 200 years," Dr. Paul added.

I. C. C. ACTION ON CRUDE FUEL RATES

Washington, June 28.—The Interstate Commerce commission today suspended from July 1 to October 29 increased rates on crude fuel and gas from Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma, to points in western Nebraska and South Dakota. This action was taken pending further investigation of the rates by the commission.

GREAT EXODUS OF EMIGRANTS FROM EUROPE TO U. S.

(By United Press)
London, June 28.—A great exodus of emigrants from Europe to the United States is in progress today.

Thousands of persons are moving westward to take advantage of new American immigration quotas which go into effect next Sunday. It is one of the greatest migrations in history.

Steamship officials are conferring to avoid being loaded up with more passengers than can be admitted to America and then have to fetch them home again.

The White Star liner Haverford sailed June 21 with 1,100; the Adriatic June 23 with 1,283; the Homeric June 27 with 1,030; the Belgenland sails today with 600. Many others are en route.

WIND STORM

IN MISSOURI

1 PERSON KILLED, SEVERAL INJURED AND MUCH PROPERTY DAMAGE CAUSED

Joplin, Mo., June 28.—One person was killed, several injured and property damage amounting to thousands of dollars caused by a high wind storm which swept southwestern Missouri last night.

Fruit trees, telegraph and telephone wires and small buildings were blown down. Hail did heavy damage to crops.

F. C. Smith, a farmer, was killed when a tree was blown over on him. Heavy rains approaching cloudburst proportions were reported throughout this section of the state and across the line into Kansas.

NEBRASKA HAS WIND STORM TOO

Omaha, Neb., June 28.—Damage approximating $50,000 resulted from a wind storm of tornado velocity which swept Nebraska last night. Hail driven by the furious wind, did heavy damage to grain crops near Fremont.

60 MILE STORM OVER EAST NEBRASKA

Omaha, Neb., June 28.—Claude Long, 20, of Talmadge, Iowa, was killed, and $100,000 property damage was done to crops and property, and communication was demoralized by a 60-mile wind and rain storm that swept over eastern Nebraska last night and early today.

TROOPS STAY IN OKMULGEE COUNTY

LOCAL AUTHORITIES MUST GIVE PROOF OF ENFORCING LAWS BEFORE TROOPS LEAVE

(By United Press)
Okmulgee, Okla., June 28.—National guard troops in charge of law enforcement in Okmulgee county will remain here until Governor J. C. Walton is satisfied that local authorities can enforce the laws efficiently, according to a statement made by the executive here today. "Local officers are too often allied with secret, lawless mobs, making it impossible to get results in law enforcement," the governor said.

The state troops will remain as long as they are needed to enforce the governor's edict of martial law. Fifty militiamen are on duty in the town of Okmulgee; 50 at Henrietta and 2 each at Dewar and Spelter and other towns in the mining district. A military proclamation issued by Adjutant-general B. H. Markham forbidding mass meetings was posted today.

ARE AFTER AIR ENDURANCE RECORD

Santiago, Calif., June 28. Captain Lowell H. Smith and Lieut. John B. Richter hopped off at Rockwell field at 8:48 a. m. in a second attempt to break all air endurance records.

The army aviators intend to remain aloft four days without stopping their motor, establishing many records, including that for sustained flight and for speed at various distances.

The first attempt yesterday ended after six hours when mechanical trouble forced them down.

ANTI-SALOON MEN TEACH LEADERS "WAYS OF WETS"

VIRTUAL SCHOOL OF INSTRUCTION IN ENEMY TACTICS CARRIED ON

SPECIFIC CAMPAIGN STARTED AGAINST PROHIBITION REPEALERS

(By United Press)

Westerville, Ohio, June 28.—The American anti-saloon league today schooled its superintendents in the "ways of the wets." Virtual classes in enemy tactics met behind closed doors at the last session of the League's three day dry conference here.

Specific instructions for pushing the campaign against prohibition repealers into every state and Congressional district were placed in the hands of forty state superintendents.

As usual, the meeting opened with a hymn, followed by the superintendent's prayers.

The dry leaders, it was learned authoritatively, will make no attempt to secure a prohibition plank in any political platform, state or national. They will go back to their states, however, urged to give vigorous support to the election of out-and-out "drys."

A. F. OF L. SIGHTS RED TENDENCIES ABROAD

EUROPEAN TRADES UNIONISM MAKING SURRENDERS TO COMMUNISM

Washington, June 28.—European trade unionism is evincing strong radical tendencies, according to a review of labor conditions abroad issued by the American Federation of Labor.

One symptom was said to be an amalgamation of the International Transport Workers' federation with an organization of similarly engaged workers in Russia.

A second was said to be instanced by the refusal of British union delegates to a recent labor congress at Hamburg to vote for resolutions of rebuke of the Russian soviet government for its prosecution of socialists.

"European trades unionism at present is in no essential manner recovering from the onslaught of communism," the report said. "It is, on the contrary, at the moment making some important surrenders, the consequences of which are not easy to see in their entirety at present.

"American labor not only will not join with any organization that seeks to compromise with the monstrosity of bolshevism, but it will raise its voice in protest at every sign of compromise with that institution, no matter where that attempt will be made. From the standpoint of American labor the European confusion is in most respects worse than ever."

Brainerd's Civic Conscience

The campaign for funds to finance the newly organized Boy Scout Council opened with considerable enthusiasm at the Ransford Hotel last night.

John F. Woodhead as general chairman of the drive presided and in a short address outlined the purposes of the campaign. He then called on Judge Walter F. Wieland, who spoke for fifteen minutes on the subject "How the Boy Scouts Can Serve Brainerd." Mr. Wieland called attention to the fact that the Boy Scouts of America is the largest and most successful organization for boys. He quoted resolutions adopted by various church denominations, fraternal organizations, educational associations and the National Federation of Labor, all which have cordially endorsed the Boy Scouts of America. Judge Wieland said that though Brainerd might be divided on other questions, it was absolutely united in making the Boy Scout movement its community program for boys. He says that there is no doubt in his mind that $4,000 will be readily contributed by citizens of Brainerd with which to place scouting on a permanent basis in Crow Wing county.

Dr. R. A. Beise and Sam Adair, Campaign Scout Masters, spoke briefly, giving reasons why success in this campaign should be anticipated.

St. Paul, June 28.—Three men who are believed by Federal agents to have supplied a large part of the illegal narcotics consumed in St. Paul were arrested in a raid last night.

A quantity of cocaine was found in their rooms. The men gave their names as Archie Melville, Amos Mulhill, John B. Gillis and Edward Carmody.

Melville had both dope and marked money in his possession, and faces sale and possession charges. The latter two face possession charges.

(By United Press)

Washington, June 28.—Prohibition Commissioner Haynes was warned today by Acting Secretary of the Treasury Gilbert to make no further statement that foreign ships bringing liquor into American waters would be seized by the United States government.

Gilbert announced that no seizure would be made, and that no consideration would be given to the suggestion made by Haynes and that no such drastic action was believed necessary to control the situation.

Following a conference in Gilbert's office, to which Haynes had been hastily summoned, Gilbert said:

"Mr. Haynes has been warned to make no further statement regarding the proposed seizure of foreign ships. I believe it is now well understood that any further statement regarding policies of this government in the ship-liquor situation will come from this office."

(By United Press)
Rochester, Minn., June 28.—Wm. Friedell, who ran against Assemblyman Schony, Republican incumbent, in the election last fall on the Farmer-Labor ticket, lost his suit for $20,000 against the Rochester Post & Record newspaper.

The suit was based on an editorial printed by the newspaper criticizing Friedell as a candidate for public office.

The verdict was returned by a jury at 9 a. m. today, after deliberating since 4:50 p. m. yesterday.

REFUSES NOMINATION. DECLINES HONOR

Minneapolis, June 28.—C. Hamilton Cook, Buffalo, commander of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, today declined to be a candidate for re-election to that post.

A successor to Commander Cook will be elected tomorrow.

"While many of my friends have been insistent that I continue as head of the national organization of the war's disabled, I am so convinced that there should be a new commander for every convention that I have decided to step aside," he said. Reports and discussions were before the convention today.

R. R. LABOR BOARD WANTS POWER SO AS TO HANDLE 'PENNSY'

(By United Press)
Chicago, June 28.—The railroad labor board today called upon congress for power to compel the Pennsylvania railroad to comply with the board's decisions.

The board holds that the Pennsylvania railroad has acted contrary to a board order to hold an election giving clerks and freight handlers the privilege of voting "for representatives of their choice with individuals or an organization" to negotiate wage and working conditions. The railway defied the order because compliance would have placed railway clerks and freight handlers, express and station employees on the ballot.

The policy of the road is that employees' representation shall be through "company unions." Persistence in violating the order is in contempt of the United States supreme court decision concerning the jurisdiction of the board, today's decision said.

FIGHT HAS A FLAT TIRE LOOK

JOHN O'NEIL, ONE OF MOST LIBERAL CONTRIBUTORS, GIVES PESSIMISTIC STATEMENT

Great Falls, Mont., June 28.—The Dempsey-Gibbons July 4 fight transaction looks like a "hopeless flat tire," John O'Neil, one of the most liberal of Great Falls contributors to the Dempsey purse, declared here.

He predicted that the promotion would go down as the greatest fiasco of the kind that ever occurred.

He made these statements after conferring with Dan Tracy, who yesterday resigned the directorate of the show, following a conference at Shelby.

Dempsey must continue perfunctory training until next Tuesday, when the final installment falls due. There is only the slightest outside chance that the champion will ever be called upon to raise a hand against Gibbons for his $200,000 already received and banked outside the state of Montana.

ASKS DISMISSAL OF 200 CASES

Indianapolis, June 28.—Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty appeared before Federal Judge A. B. Anderson here today and asked dismissal of criminal cases against 200 coal operators, union officials and corporations which resulted from the coal miners' strike of two years ago.

BRUTAL BEATINGS ARE DESCRIBED

HIGGINBOTHAM, ACCUSED, LISTS TENS UNMOVED TO TESTIMONY GIVEN

(By United Press)
Lake City, Fla., June 28.—Brutal beatings alleged to have caused the death of Martin Tabert in a convict camp were described in detail today in the trial of T. W. Higginbotham, accused of the youth's murder.

Higginbotham, whipping boss for the Putnam Lumber company, sat with his wife and small child in the little, hot, stuffy courtroom and listened to the testimony, apparently unmoved.

Graham Williams, locomotive engineer, was the first witness called today. He said he had seen the hogging of Tabert by Higginbotham.

Other witnesses said when Tabert asked to be excused from work because of illness Higginbotham forced him to lie face downward while he whipped him with heavy blows. The number of lashes was estimated by various witnesses from 40 to 87.

GREAT NORTHERN WON'T GIVE DIME TO SAVE FIGHT

"HAS NO THOUGHT OF DOING ANYTHING OUTSIDE OF RAILROAD OPERATION"

BUDD SAID ONLY INTEREST OF COMPANY WAS TO PROVIDE RAIL TRANSPORTATION

(By United Press)
St. Paul, June 28.—The Great Northern railroad will not give a dime to save the Shelby championship fight. Ralph A. Budd, president of the road, in a statement today said:

"The Great Northern has no thought of doing anything outside the province of railroad operation." Reports reached here from Shelby that the road might aid raising the third $100,000 payment for Champion Dempsey to save the fight.

"The Great Northern's only interest in the Shelby fight has been to provide railroad service to accommodate the crowds attending the fight and the extra tourist travel incident thereto," said Mr. Budd.

"It has been difficult to get any line on the anticipated crowd, so the railroad's plans have of necessity been elastic.

"The large terminal at Cut Banks, only twenty miles away, is available for storing cars, so there has been no necessity for building large additional trackage.

"The Great Northern is prepared to handle the crowds in any event. The road has recently completed the depot at Shelby, three cinder platforms have been provided, and the Great Northern is otherwise prepared to handle whatever travel developments."

MAY ASK POSTPONING FIGHT JULY 4 TO 14

Shelby, Mont., June 28.—Promoters of the Dempsey-Gibbons fight will ask the boxers and their managers to consent to a postponement from July 4 to 14, it was learned from a reliable source today.

The $273,000 to pay Dempsey the $110,000 still owing on his guarantee is not yet paid, and this will give the promoters more time in which to dig up the money.

Promoters believe they can raise enough cash for Dempsey by July 2 and in the remaining time boost ticket sales to raise the purse for him.

The consent of Jack Kearns and Eddie Kane, managers of the champion and challenger, will be necessary before there can be any postponement, as the contract calls for the bout on July 4. Neither Kane or Kearns was ready to discuss postponement until the subject had been officially presented.

Following the resignation of Dan Tracy, Great Falls man who was a large contributor to the purse, Jim Johnson was back in the saddle again as the big boss of the fight.

"I have $300,000, with which, if necessary, I can say the fight is on. We have put too much into it not to go through with it," Johnson said.

Experts who have watched both Dempsey and Gibbons train are of the opinion that both the champion and the challenger are in fine shape. Many of them think that Gibbons appears to be stronger than the champion, and many criticize him for not having sparring partners.

Others give Gibbons a fine chance, and think that Dempsey, for natural reasons, cannot be as good as he was four years ago or two years ago. Shelby was deep in mud again today after a heavy rain, and both the rival rodeos in town were voicing their approval of the fight promoters.

FIGHT HAS A FLAT TIRE LOOK

JOHN O'NEIL, ONE OF MOST LIBERAL CONTRIBUTORS, GIVES PESSIMISTIC STATEMENT

Great Falls, Mont., June 28.—The Dempsey-Gibbons July 4 fight transaction looks like a "hopeless flat tire," John O'Neil, one of the most liberal of Great Falls contributors to the Dempsey purse, declared here.

He predicted that the promotion would go down as the greatest fiasco of the kind that ever occurred.

He made these statements after conferring with Dan Tracy, who yesterday resigned the directorate of the show, following a conference at Shelby.

Dempsey must continue perfunctory training until next Tuesday, when the final installment falls due. There is only the slightest outside chance that the champion will ever be called upon to raise a hand against Gibbons for his $200,000 already received and banked outside the state of Montana.

ASKS DISMISSAL OF 200 CASES

Indianapolis, June 28.—Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty appeared before Federal Judge A. B. Anderson here today and asked dismissal of criminal cases against 200 coal operators, union officials and corporations which resulted from the coal miners' strike of two years ago.

BRUTAL BEATINGS ARE DESCRIBED

HIGGINBOTHAM, ACCUSED, LISTS TEN UNMOVED TO TESTIMONY GIVEN

(By United Press)
Lake City, Fla., June 28.—Brutal beatings alleged to have caused the death of Martin Tabert in a convict camp were described in detail today in the trial of T. W. Higginbotham, accused of the youth's murder.

Higginbotham, whipping boss for the Putnam Lumber company, sat with his wife and small child in the little, hot, stuffy courtroom and listened to the testimony, apparently unmoved.

Graham Williams, locomotive engineer, was the first witness called today. He said he had seen the flogging of Tabert by Higginbotham.

Other witnesses said when Tabert asked to be excused from work because of illness Higginbotham forced him to lie face downward while he whipped him with heavy blows. The number of lashes was estimated by various witnesses from 40 to 87.

GREAT NORTHERN WON'T GIVE DIME TO SAVE FIGHT

"HAS NO THOUGHT OF DOING ANYTHING OUTSIDE OF RAILROAD OPERATION"

BUDD SAID ONLY INTEREST OF COMPANY WAS TO PROVIDE RAIL TRANSPORTATION

(By United Press)
St. Paul, June 28.—The Great Northern railroad will not give a dime to save the Shelby championship fight. Ralph A. Budd, president of the road, in a statement today said:

"The Great Northern has no thought of doing anything outside the province of railroad operation." Reports reached here from Shelby that the road might aid raising the third $100,000 payment for Champion Dempsey to save the fight.

"The Great Northern's only interest in the Shelby fight has been to provide railroad service to accommodate the crowds attending the fight and the extra tourist travel incident thereto," said Mr. Budd.

"It has been difficult to get any line on the anticipated crowd, so the railroad's plans have of necessity been elastic.

"The large terminal at Cut Banks, only twenty miles away, is available for storing cars, so there has been no necessity for building large additional trackage.

"The Great Northern is prepared to handle the crowds in any event. The road has recently completed the depot at Shelby, three cinder platforms have been provided, and the Great Northern is otherwise prepared to handle whatever travel develops."

MAY ASK POSTPONING FIGHT JULY 4 TO 14

Shelby, Mont., June 28.—Promoters of the Dempsey-Gibbons fight will ask the boxers and their managers to consent to a postponement from July 4 to 14, it was learned from a reliable source today.

The $273,000 to pay Dempsey the $110,000 still owing on his guarantee is not yet paid, and this will give the promoters more time in which to dig up the money.

Promoters believe they can raise enough cash for Dempsey by July 2 and in the remaining time boost ticket sales to raise the purse for him.

The consent of Jack Kearns and Eddie Kane, managers of the champion and challenger, will be necessary before there can be any postponement, as the contract calls for the bout on July 4. Neither Kane or Kearns was ready to discuss postponement until the subject had been officially presented.

Following the resignation of Dan Tracy, Great Falls man who was a large contributor to the purse, Jim Johnson was back in the saddle again as the big boss of the fight.

"I have $300,000, with which, if necessary, I can say 'the fight is on. We have put too much into it not to go through with it,'" Johnson said.

Experts who have watched both Dempsey and Gibbons train are of the opinion that both the champion and the challenger are in fine shape. Many of them think that Gibbons appears to be stronger than the champion, and many criticize him for not having sparring partners.

Others give Gibbons a fine chance, and think that Dempsey, for natural reasons, cannot be as good as he was four years ago or two years ago. Shelby was deep in mud again today after a heavy rain, and both the rival rodeos in town were voicing their approval of the fight promoters.

BAD MEMORY AFFLICTS WITNESSES

(By United Press)

Chicago, June 28.—Charges that a conspiracy exists to prevent the prosecution of liquor law violators here were made today by a Federal grand jury before Judge James H. Wilkerson.

Government witnesses appearing before the jury have refused to testify, suffering "bad memory" and perjuring themselves, the 23 declared. The jury was unable to return indictments because of this.

"I know that political influence is being exercised to prevent prosecutions of liquor violators," Judge Wilkerson said, in asking for a complete report naming witnesses and officials who refused to co-operate.

BAD MEMORY AFFLICTS WITNESSES

(By United Press)
Chicago, June 28.—Charges that a conspiracy exists to prevent the prosecution of liquor law violators here were made today by a Federal grand jury before Judge James H. Wilkerson.

Government witnesses appearing before the jury have refused to testify, suffering "bad memory" and perjuring themselves, the 23 declared. The jury was unable to return indictments because of this.

"I know that political influence is being exercised to prevent prosecutions of liquor violators," Judge Wilkerson said, in asking for a complete report naming witnesses and officials who refused to co-operate.

AGRICULTURAL GRAD. AT FARM

Melvin C. Viste, A. B. Wisconsin Graduate, In Charge of Echo Stock Farm Dairy Herd

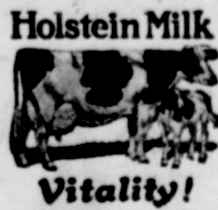

60 COWS MILKED AT FARM

Stock Farm Installs New Machinery in Dairy Department for Sanitary Handling of Milk

Melvin C. Viste, A. B., graduate of the four-year agricultural course of the University of Wisconsin, and with much postgraduate work to his credit, has been placed in charge of the dairy herd at the Echo Stock Farm, just south of the city.

This is another forward step in the progress of the Echo farm, and demonstrates the possibilities in this business in Crow Wing county. Sixty cows are now being milked at the farm, all pure-bred Holsteins, a big, rugged type of dairy cattle, highly favored in this country.

Unlike the milk from many other breeds, the Holsteins' product is especially nutritious, containing all the proper qualities of proteins, carbohydrates and mineral salts in just the right proportions for the highest food value.

It is a proven fact that the great vitality of the sturdy Holstein is transmitted to the user of her milk, which is a point worth considering when the household's supply of milk is being determined.

Ex-Governor Lowden of Illinois, president of the National Holstein Association, says the following in favor of this breed of dairy cattle: "The Holstein cow is the most wonderful laboratory. Taking the grasses of the pasture and the roughage of the field, she converts it into food for man, containing a mysterious something which scientists have found essential to the health of the human race, and which can be found nowhere else. Men have sought for centuries the fabled fountain of youth. The nearest approach to that which has yet been discovered, is the milk supply of the Holstein. Without her milk, children languish, the vigor of adults declines and the vitality of the human race runs low."

The Echo Stock Farm has recently installed new machinery in its dairy department, for the sanitary handling of the milk. The product now goes through seven strainers before it is bottled, and is handled in the most approved sanitary manner. The management of the farm is anxious to give the very best possible service, and will rectify any errors that may occur.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

Enjoyed Their Annual Camp on Clark Lake, Near Blackledge Cottage

The Camp Fire Girls of the Methodist church returned Monday from their annual camp, which was held on Clark Lake on the spacious grounds surrounding the Blackledge cottage.

The girls were under the leadership of their former guardian, Mrs. Harriet Engberg-Loomis. She had promised the girls to be with them during their camp, and returned from Minneapolis for this purpose.

The storm of Monday, a week ago, prevented the girls from hiking to camp as they had desired and planned to do, but the trip on the train was none the less interesting, for the girls had their "Ukes" and sang during the whole distance.

Arriving at camp, they drew cuts as to who should be the cooks on the first shift. Augusta Welch, Sylvia Foster and Dorothy Winter were voted the best cooks of the week.

Hikes were taken, wiener roasts held, croquet and tennis played, swimming contests enjoyed, marshmallows toasted, and other pleasures indulged in during the stay.

One evening, when the Methodist ball team went to Merrifield, the girls started to hike to that town, when they were overtaken by Rev. E. A. Cooke with his Ford, and fourteen boarded that vehicle.

Mrs. W. H. Gemmell entertained the camp at her cottage and served refreshments. Miss Eula Michael, the present guardian, drove out and spent each night with the girls. Visitors included Miss Marie Grimes and Miss Amy Erickson.

A feature of the camp was a stunt every night. The best one, so decided by popular vote, was given by Cleo Mayo, Dolphine Wigter and Gladys Smith. They put on a negro minstrel show.

Some amusing incidents of camp life were caused by the rains. The girls rolled up in blankets and slept outside and were driven in every night save one. The regular order of camp life was not observed then, as the sleepy girls found a resting place wherever there was space for repose.

Bernice White and Myrtes Mayo were given a popular vote as the best all-around "Scouts" in the camp. The Camp Fire Girls returned to the city by automobile on Monday.

BRAINERD GOLFERS TO LITTLE FALLS

Brainerd golfers will make a pilgrimage to Little Falls Sunday to play the first game of the season with the country club team of that city.

While there are twelve players in the team that will represent Brainerd, still it is hoped that a large number of enthusiasts will accompany the contingent, adding their moral support.

The trip will be made Sunday morning, with luncheon at noon in Little Falls. Play will start promptly at one o'clock.

In addition to the usual men's play, there will be women's play, also, and added inducement for a great many local ladies making the trip.

Little Falls has a great many enthusiastic golfers, who are giving much attention to their game, and the Brainerd team is promised a hard contest in Sunday's tilt. It is understood that the down-river club has added nine holes to their course this year, making a full eighteen hole links.

The Brainerd golfers will put in the time between now and Sunday in intensive playing, to whip themselves into form for bringing home Little Falls scalp.

Nice Bunch of Small Mouth

The motto of Lone Pine camp, near Brainerd, "A Better Camp Each Year" should read "Better Fishing Each Year," as reports that are coming from people who are stopping with Mr. McCall are landing good sized strings of small mouthed bass. Mr. McCall is an old time fisherman and sees that every one that stops at Lone Pine Camp are given very courteous treatment, part of which he believes is to see that anyone that visits this resort, are located at the various fishing holes in South Long lake.

STATE ENDOWED EDUCATION ON TRIAL

WHAT Dr. Arvid Reuterdaahl of the Ramsey Institute of Technology said about modern education, in Minneapolis, is in line with the conclusions of many students of the tendencies of the educational movement as it finds its expression today. There are many educators who conclude that state endowed education is on trial. When the doors are opened to students, whose whole aim is to slide through the four years so that they may claim to be graduates of a worth-while school, there is a danger that money is wasted on their education by the state that makes it possible.

The criticism of Dr. Reuterdaahl is summed up in three words, extravagance, dissipation and unsportsmanlike behavior. In illustrating the first of these, that is extravagance, he cited the limousine which is so much abused by young people whose wealth endangers their usefulness in the world order; in dealing with dissipation he spoke of moonshine which is begetting a moral laxity that augurs ill for the future lives of students who indulge in it; and in pointing to the third he affirmed that "educated Amazons" are sitting on the side lines during college games emitting the "merciless cry, Thumbs down."

Each of these in itself is a reflection on those who yield to them. They indicate that unless the tide turns American prosperity may doom many to a life of uselessness and unhappiness, but the gravest charge is that in which this educator affirms that many college students are not sportsmanlike. Such a charge as this refers to the qualities of the students; character itself is involved in this criticism. Extravagance may be cured by a turn of fortune's wheel, dissipation may be outgrown, but if these two result from a defect in character of such gravity that fairplay and sportsmanship are forgotten, then the deeper qualities are at stake and without a sense of fairplay civilization is in danger. Magnificent stadiums will not cure such a defect in character; they may aggravate it. Unless sports lead to the cultivation of an appreciation of good play, whether by the team of the alma mater or the rival team, there is something gravely wrong with the present athletic competition of the schools. The proper value of these does not accrue from building up a winning team but from developing a sportsmanlike spirit that is interested in the quality of the plays rather than in the result of the game.

Dr. Reuterdaahl takes the position already taken by the University of Chicago, which demands that entrance requirements be made more demanding and that those who, having entered, prove by their attitude that they are there to drift along with the tide without any exertion for the purpose of utilizing the advantages made possible by the contributions of the state, and other institutions in which they may do their drifting without expense to the tax-payers. The whole critique shows that colleges supported by state aid or individual endowment are on trial and that universal education in the higher grades cannot be appraised as fulfilling the hopes of those who have been its champions.

DISTORTED FACTS

IN dealing with the serious questions that arise when the present order in Russia is under consideration truth must be respected and the facts must be accepted as they are. Had it not been for the presence of representatives of the Methodist Episcopal church of America in the recent church conference in Russia, some of the statements presented for propaganda purposes might be accepted as correct. But inasmuch as these statements are contradicted by the representatives of an American church who sat in that church conference, the public will be more ready to accept the findings of these leaders of the Methodist Episcopal church, who were present in the conference, than the statements of newspaper correspondents who were not.

In this church conference held recently in Russia, Archbishop Tikhon was unfrocked, the pronouncement reading: "On the authority of the canons of the church (the council) declares herewith that he is divested of his office and of his monkhood and is returned into the primitive state of layman. From now on Patriarch Tikhon is the layman Basil Baliavin." This report of the conference is made by Dr. L. O. Hartman, editor of Zion's Herald, Boston, who accompanied Bishop Blake of the Methodist Episcopal church to Russia, where they attended the sessions of the conference together.

It would therefore appear that the supreme court of Russia in pardoning the Patriarch has gone further than the representatives of the church of Russia gathered together from all parts of that far-flung country.

Misrepresentations of the situation in Russia, which seek to impress the people of other countries, by claiming that the church is under the tyranny of the Bolsheviks, are contradicted by the representative Americans who were in the church conference. However deplorable the methods adopted by the present government may have been, these ought not to be used to prejudice people on matters that were decided by the church in Russia whose decisions were not made under coercion if the reports of representatives of an American church are to be accepted. Nothing will be gained in the end by a propaganda that departs from the truth for in time the facts will be learned and the propaganda discredited.

D. D. SCHRADER AS APPRAISER

THE appointment of D. D. Schrader as appraiser under the Rural Credit act has given general satisfaction. Mr. Schrader has had considerable experience in agricultural matters and his experience qualifies him to make a fair appraisal of the land values in this district. An appraiser's work under this act is likely to be heavy, for as the farmers come to appreciate the benefits conferred upon them by the Rural Credit act they are asking that their lands and improvements be appraised so that they may take advantage of the provisions of this remedial legislation.

In passing this Rural Credit legislation the last legislature did a splendid thing. For three years the farmers of the Northwest have suffered because the surplus produce of their farms has not been called for by the market. There were two reasons for this surplus. Unemployment in the United States naturally reduced consumption of foodstuffs, and as the agricultural acreage of the Northwest has been developed, there has been an increase in produce that could only be consumed if the exports of wheat and other products were increased in proportion to the increase in the amount raised on the land. Statistics show that while exports have not fallen off seriously, as has been affirmed so often, exports have not increased at the rate of the increase in the production of the farm lands of the United States, and this, together with the decreased consumption of the unemployed during the past three years, and more particularly two and three years ago, led to the surplus that was not called for by the domestic and foreign market.

Under the leadership of Governor J. A. O. Preus, who has proved his interest in the farmers of the state of Minnesota and the Northwest, the legislature of Minnesota passed the Rural Credit measure in the last session of the legislature and appraisers are now at work in the state so that the farmers may take advantage of its provisions. This measure makes it possible for them to borrow money through the Minnesota Rural Credit bureau at a rate of interest of approximately five and one-half per cent. Money may be borrowed up to sixty per cent of the value of the land and thirty-three and one-third per cent of the appraised value of improvements.

These provisions are such that the farmers of the state, as they become acquainted with them, are enthusiastic over the benefits conferred. With Mr. Schrader as appraiser for approximately six counties in this part of Minnesota, the farmers are sure of a fair appraisal of their holdings, and they are showing their interest in and appreciation of this legislative effort to meet the exigencies of a situation over which they had little control and which has worked real hardship upon them during the past three years.

While this measure will not of itself create the necessary markets to consume the surplus that must result unless the market demand increases, it will do much to enable the farmers to carry on until conditions swing back to normalcy, and there are already indications that the drift is in the direction of better markets for the produce of the farms of the Northwest.

MORAL PROSPERITY

FREDERICK E. SCHORTEMEIER, secretary of the republican state committee of Indiana, who rejoices in the return of material prosperity in America under the Harding administration, emphasizes the need of "moral prosperity."

In reading these two words thus coupled there will be those who are ready to affirm that they cannot be joined together in this way, that morality and prosperity are words divorced and not words wedded. If the rules of the game, as the game is so often played, are to be accepted, then such a conclusion would be justified. If material prosperity is considered an end in itself, an end to be secured by any means, then morality is waived in favor of the means to success, no matter how immoral the means may be.

It is therefore interesting that a leader of a political party in a great state should call attention to the need of moral prosperity. He sees that material prosperity cannot offer the fundamentals of an enduring civilization. It is true that a civilization is measured by the multitude of its conveniences that make for comfort and contentment and happiness, but unless the moral qualities of the recipients of the blessings of a material prosperity, are such that they have within themselves the source of happiness, things will not be enjoyed no matter how much the things are multiplied.

One of America's most brilliant writers, a woman who is universally known, has called attention to the need of supporting the simple virtues. If these receive attention they will form the soil out of which will grow the trees that will afford shelter to those who are unfortunate in our modern world order. But these must have attention, before matters of legislation. The dignity of labor; the simple, home and community virtues, and the fraternal and neighborly spirit must be restored if present prosperity is to rest upon secure foundations. Without these prosperity, with its counterparts luxury and dissipation, may shatter the civilization that makes the prosperity possible.

There is need today to emphasize the fact stressed by Mr. Schortemeier. Moral prosperity is needed in our world order, and moral prosperity can come into it only when individuals are morally alert and morally right. Legislation, whether it seeks to prohibit the use of harmful things, or to guarantee women and children against exploitation by the industrial order, or to fix a minimum wage according to some standard of American requirement, will not accomplish its purpose unless the people are ready to be simply and naturally moral. It was Emerson who said: "The wise know that foolish legislation is a rope of sand which perishes in the twisting; that the state must follow and not lead the character and progress of the citizens."

INVITING TOURIST BUSINESS

THE wise merchant is looking out for the second order. He knows that the sale of shoddy goods, indifference to the customer or an exorbitant price, will yield him present advantage at the cost of business that might be his in the future.

Merchants who see present advantage and are without the long vision, sometimes conclude that tourists who are passing through on their way to some other point may be treated according to the law which bids the merchant get all that he can in the present because the tourist may never come his way again. Such a policy is short-sighted. Tourists who are charged a price that is higher than the prevailing price paid by local people in the same stores naturally resent such an obvious attempt to make them pay more because they are transients without redress. The person charged too much by a merchant, in his home town, may seek out some other merchant and, by telling the story of the deal, deflect trade from the business place where the injustice was practiced. On the other hand, the tourist is going on to some other place and is sometimes looked upon as a person whose touring guarantees that he can afford to pay more than the average customer.

Merchants who have two prices, one for the resident and another for the vacationist, are doing a grave wrong to their community. Stories of such wrongs are told by those who are wronged and, like other stories, they grow in the telling, until a community may be put on the black-list by those who have been unjustly treated and by others who hear a rumor that such a town ought to be avoided.

Tourist business, like any other business, is built up on the principle that courtesy, square-dealing and service will bring more trade. It is vain to attempt to win back the amount expended on a tourist camp by charging extortionate prices. The money expended in making the tourists comfortable will be secured through a period of time, and the same effort to serve that found expression in providing a tourist camp ought to be expressed behind the counter. Tourists who know that they have been cheated will not overlook this treatment even when they have been comfortably entertained at a first-class camping ground. Other towns have camp sites, and they will find them when they travel again.

BOY SCOUTS

(By the Organizing Committee)

Absolutely Non-Sectarian
Recognition of God and service to Him are fundamental in scouting, but the movement is absolutely without any sectarian bias. Wherever it is practicable troops are organized in connection with churches of all denominations. If a scoutmaster is available in that church, he is at once put in charge of that troop. No boy is trained away from the thought of his own religious environment. This is attested by clergymen and officials of all churches. There is no guesswork about it. Scouting plays fairly with the church.

Absolutely Non-Militaristic
The Constitution and By-Laws of the Boy Scouts of America also forbid involving the organization in any matter of political character. There is no effort or possibility of making any effort to train the boy away from his own political home environment. The scoutmaster has no more to do with politics than the school teacher or the Sunday school teacher.

The question is often asked as to whether the Boy Scout movement gives military training. The answer is a decided "No." But there are certain things as essential to civic uprightness and moral integrity as they are to military discipline which are taught.

Scouts do not carry guns nor are they taught tactics distinctly military in character. But the scout movement emphasizes the individual responsibility of the boy to obligations which he has voluntarily assumed. He is taught that his own oath involves obedience to discipline that he may gain efficiency. Precision of action is balanced by training to personal responsibility. Above all the boy is trained to courage, loyalty, truth, and manliness. These things every man needs outside military life as well as in it.

Lookout Mountain Meets Its Master

This Mountain rises over 7,000 feet in 6.4 miles, making the round trip 12.8 miles. 34 round trips were made in 24 hours, the engine never stopping and car stopping only to change passengers.

Denver, Colo., June 16, 1923.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Note the Judges' sworn statement below:

This is certainly a noteworthy feat, and no other car on the market, regardless of make or price, has ever accomplished this.

Lookout Mountain is very high and steep and very few cars can go all the way to the top on High even once, and it is very rare that a car can go all the way up without steaming.

Yours,
FLOYD CLYMER

Denver, Colorado, June 14, 1923.

We, the undersigned Judges in the DORT Hill Climbing contest: held on Lookout Mountain, June 13th-14th, certify to the following statements and facts:

1. That a DORT Six Cylinder Stock touring car Number 98703 was sealed by the Judges in High Gear at 11:00 a. m. on the morning of June 13, 1923.
2. That the car attained a speed of sixty miles an hour at 11:50 a. m. June 13th and was immediately taken to Golden, Colorado, where in our presence the radiator cap was sealed.
3. That the car was started at noon, June 13, 1923, for a continuous twenty-four hour climb of Lookout Mountain, passengers changing every round trip.
4. At noon after twenty-four hours driving the car was stopped and the seals on both the radiator and transmission were intact—the speedometer showed that a total of 437.7 miles had been covered and that the car had not been taken out of high gear or water added during the trip.
5. We, the undersigned Judges, were carried as passengers on the first and last trips that the car made and that we have inspected the checking sheets and signatures of the passengers carried showing a total of 185 passengers that rode in the car during the twenty-four hours.

Merchants who see present advantage and are without the long vision, sometimes conclude that tourists who are passing through on their way to some other point may be treated according to the law which bids the merchant get all that he can in the present because the tourist may never come his way again. Such a policy is short-sighted. Tourists who are charged a price that is higher than the prevailing price paid by local people in the same stores naturally resent such an obvious attempt to make them pay more because they are transients without redress. The person charged too much by a merchant, in his home town, may seek out some other merchant and, by telling the story of the deal, deflect trade from the business place where the injustice was practiced. On the other hand, the tourist is going on to some other place and is sometimes looked upon as a person whose touring guarantees that he can afford to pay more than the average customer.

Merchants who have two prices, one for the resident and another for the vacationist, are doing a grave wrong to their community. Stories of such wrongs are told by those who are wronged and, like other stories, they grow in the telling, until a community may be put on the black-list by those who have been unjustly treated and by others who hear a rumor that such a town ought to be avoided.

Tourist business, like any other business, is built up on the principle that courtesy, square-dealing and service will bring more trade. It is vain to attempt to win back the amount expended on a tourist camp by charging extortionate prices. The money expended in making the tourists comfortable will be secured through a period of time, and the same effort to serve that found expression in providing a tourist camp ought to be expressed behind the counter. Tourists who know that they have been cheated will not overlook this treatment even when they have been comfortably entertained at a first-class camping ground. Other towns have camp sites, and they will find them when they travel again.

BOY SCOUTS

(By the Organizing Committee)

Absolutely Non-Sectarian

Recognition of God and service to Him are fundamental in scouting, but the movement is absolutely without any sectarian bias. Wherever it is practicable troops are organized in connection with churches of all denominations. If a scoutmaster is available in that church, he is at once put in charge of that troop. No boy is trained away from the thought of his own religious environment. This is attested by clergymen and officials of all churches. There is no guesswork about it. Scouting plays fairly with the church.

Absolute Non-Militaristic

The Constitution and By-Laws of the Boy Scouts of America also forbid involving the organization in any matter of political character. There is no effort or possibility of making any effort to train the boy away from his own political home environment. The scoutmaster has no more to do with politics than the school teacher or the Sunday school teacher. The question is often asked as to whether the Boy Scout movement gives military training. The answer is a decided "No." But there are certain things as essential to civic uprightness and moral integrity as they are to military discipline which are taught.

Scouts do not carry guns nor are they taught tactics distinctly military in character. But the scout movement emphasizes the individual responsibility of the boy to obligations which he has voluntarily assumed. He is taught that his own oath involves obedience to discipline that he may gain efficiency. Precision of action is balanced by training to personal responsibility. Above all the boy is trained to courage, loyalty, truth, and manliness. These things every man needs outside military life as well as in it.

Antiquity of Biscuit Joke.

Nervous Feeling Due to Gas on Stomach

Pressure of gas on heart and other organs often causes a restless, nervous feeling. Simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adlerika, expels gas and relieves pressure and nervousness almost INSTANTLY. Acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel. Adlerika removes matter you never thought was in your system which poisoned stomach, causing gas and nervousness. EXCELLENT to guard against appendicitis. Johnson's Pharmacy.

Lookout Mountain Meets Its Master

This Mountain rises over 7,000 feet in 6.4 miles, making the round trip 12.8 miles. 34 round trips were made in 24 hours, the engine never stopping and car stopping only to change passengers.

Denver, Colo., June 16, 1923.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Note the Judges' sworn statement below:

This is certainly a noteworthy feat, and no other car on the market, regardless of make or price, has ever accomplished this.

Lookout Mountain is very high and steep and very few cars can go all the way to the top on High even once, and it is very rare that a car can go all the way up without steaming.

Yours,
FLOYD CLYMER

Denver, Colorado, June 14, 1923.

We, the undersigned Judges in the DORT Hill Climbing contest held on Lookout Mountain, June 13th-14th, certify to the following statements and facts:

1. That a DORT Six Cylinder Stock touring car Number 98703 was sealed by the Judges in High Gear at 11:00 a. m. on the morning of June 13, 1923.
2. That the car attained a speed of sixty miles an hour at 11:30 a. m. June 13th and was immediately taken to Golden, Colorado, where in our presence the radiator cap was sealed.
3. That the car was started at noon, June 13, 1923, for a continuous twenty-four hour climb of Lookout Mountain, passengers changing every round trip.
4. At noon after twenty-four hours driving the car was stopped and the seals on both the radiator and transmission were intact—the speedometer showed that a total of 437.7 miles had been covered and that the car had not been taken out of high gear or water added during the trip.
5. We, the undersigned Judges, were carried as passengers on the first and last trips that the car made and that we have inspected the checking sheets and signatures of the passengers carried showing a total of 185 passengers that rode in the car during the twenty-four hours.

LIONS MEET AT BREEZY POINT

Nearly 100 Per Cent Attendance Enjoys Steak Dinner at Popular Resort on Wednesday

BEN ARMSTRONG PRESIDED

His Team, Losing in Membership Contest, Furnished Luncheon for the Visitors

The Brainerd Lions Club, nearly one-hundred per cent strong, held its regular meeting Wednesday night at Breezy Point, being royally entertained by Capt. and Mrs. William H. Fawcett.

The proprietor and his wife lead the members of the club on a tour of inspection of the grounds, visiting the fine stables, the poultry pens, the wild animal runs, etc.

The luncheon was served in the main cafe. Other diners in the room caught the spirit of the meeting and joined in singing the club's songs.

Ben Armstrong, captain of the losing team in the recent attendance campaign presided at the head of the table. His team furnished the luncheon to the winners, as a penalty for absence during the contest.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held on Thursday evening, July 5th, and members are asked to note this change, made necessary by Wednesday's national holiday.

A special committee is planning a Ladies' night celebration to be held July 11th, detailed arrangements for which will be announced later.

TENT SENT BY MISTAKE

Tent and Chairs Ordered Returned as Chautauqua Will Be Held at Park Theatre

When H. F. Michael returned from St. Louis he was besieged with calls from the freight office as to what should be done with the Chautauqua tent and 500 chairs shipped to him as president of the local Chautauqua association.

After wiring the company they wired to have it returned as it had been sent by mistake.

The Chautauqua, which begins Sunday, will be held in the Park theatre as it is becoming more and more the custom to hold these gatherings indoors which offers more comfort than a tent. The opera house was selected because of its size. It is fully expected that this building will be fully taxed to care for the crowds on at least three evenings.

The ticket selling is going on merrily. A season ticket costs but $2.00 giving entrance to 10 entertainments whereas single admission will be 50c. One has only to take in four entertainments to pay for a season ticket.

local campaign, spoke briefly on some national aspects of Scouting and then distributed the cards of prospects that had been prepared for the campaign. In this effort it is proposed to cover four hundred and fifty names by Friday evening and if this is done the full $4,000 desired without doubt will be fully raised and the campaign closed.

Chairman Woodhead announced that he in company with Dr. Beise, one of his lieutenants, had thought it advisable to call upon some of the leading citizens for initial subscriptions before the opening of the general canvass. He stated that he held in his hands subscription cards actually signed up for $1380, and that he expected that this would be considerably increased.

The meeting adjourned at 8:30 o'clock and the canvassers immediately commenced their solicitations and will continue Thursday and Friday. Every campaign worker and every member of the local scout council is expected to attend a second complimentary dinner this Thursday evening at 6 o'clock to report progress in the campaign. This meeting is of such importance that the presence of every worker must be expected. The third supper will be served at the Ransford Friday evening when the workers will be brought together and final reports received to close the campaign.

Campaign Organization

The campaign organization is as follows: Executive Committee, John Woodhead, general chairman, Judge Wieland, Carl Zapffe, Dr. R. A. Beise and Sam Adair.

Troop A: Dr. R. A. Beise, Campaign Scout Master, with Clyde E. Parker, Dr. K. H. Hoorn, and A. C. Ebert as campaign patrol leaders together with the following workers: Dr. W. A. Erickson, Rev. F. Errington, Edward Egan, J. H. Krekelberg, Ed Anderson, George Tracy, F. E. Stout, John Holvick, Sam Engbretson, Oscar Swanson, Hugo Kaatz, Tob Elder, Louis Zakariassen, Carl Wright, Andrew Anderson, Jas. Alderman, H. E. Butler, Art Koop, Dr. A. K. Cohen, Harry Carlson, Axel Fall, W. R. Hiller, R. T. Campbell. Troop B: Sam Adair, Campaign Scout Master, together with W. A. M. Johnstone, G. W. Schmidt, W. M. Opsahl, as campaign patrol leaders with the following workers: G. W. Chadbourne, Kirk Smith, Arthur Lyddon, D. E. Whitney, Robert Crust, Dr. M. Carlson, Harry Carlson, Frank Carlson and others to be announced.

Entire City Interested

The Boy Scout campaign, which began in real earnest this morning, is making a strong appeal to the big heart of Brainerd. The entire city is very much interested in this proposition and the vital need of scouting locally is decisively shown in the preliminary drive of Wednesday, when thirteen hundred dollars was pledged in two hours.

The direction of the work is handled along the same lines as an army is organized. There are two captains working under General Woodhead, Dr. R. A. Beise and S. R. Adair. Each of these captains have three lieutenants subordinate to him. Captain Beise's staff is composed of Dr. K. H. Hoorn, Clyde E. Parker and A. C. Ebert; Captain Adair's men are W. A. M. Johnstone, E. W. Schmidt and A. M. Opsahl.

Each of the members of these staffs are in charge of a company of eight men who will be given ten cards each, containing the classified list of names who are to be solicited in the two-day drive.

The men who make up these companies have been chosen very carefully from various organizations and industries of the city, and represent a truly patriotic type of citizenship anxious to assist in solving the boy problem. Their slogan is, "What Will the Boy of Yesterday do for the Boy of Today?"

Naturally, in so short and intensive a drive as this one will be, it will be impossible to call on everyone in Brainerd for contributions to this worthy cause. It is felt, however, that citizens generally are awake to the necessity of providing for the youth of the city, and are anxious to give their moral and financial support to the movement, which means much to the coming generation.

All who are unintentionally overlooked in this campaign, are asked to get in touch with Chairman Woodhead and arrange for their contributions. No one should be left out of this movement, and it is not the desire that any shall be. Contributions, large and small, will be gladly received. You are urged to number yourself with the others who have a part in this good work.

Another luncheon and meeting of officers and workers in this campaign will be held at the Ransford this evening at 6 o'clock.

MRS. MARTIN JOHNSON ON A DOMESTICATED ZEBRA
Bits of African Adventure, Related by Martin Johnson

I had bought Mrs. Johnson an Abyssinian mule and one day she was riding it ahead of our safari, as I walked alongside. After a while we came to a small depression, called in Africa a "donga," that was filled with cane grass about five or six feet high. We were going on that when Mrs. Johnson whispered "Simba" (Lion). I stood on my toes but could not see in the grass. She again whispered, "No, there are two—no, three, great heavens, there are nine."

Then they caught sight of us and ran out on a small hill about seventy feet away. There was the most remarkable sight we ever saw among the lions; eight big black-maned fellows and an enormous female. They stood a minute while I frantically set up my cameras, then they trotted off about twenty feet and whirled and stood looking at us, then trotted another twenty feet and turned to watch us curiously again. The remarkable thing about it was that not a lion roared, or snarled, or in any way showed fear or fight, they were merely curious. When we got to the center of the "donga" we found a big bull giraffe that the lions had just pulled down. You can see it all yourself in our picture, "Trailing African Wild Animals," released by Metro, and showing at the New Park last time tonight.

MRS. MARTIN JOHNSON ON A DOMESTICATED ZEBRA
Bits of African Adventure, Related by Martin Johnson

I had bought Mrs. Johnson an Abyssinian mule and one day she was riding it ahead of our safari, as I walked alongside. After a while we came to a small depression, called in Africa a "donga," that was filled with cane grass about five or six feet high. We were going on through it when Mrs. Johnson whispered "Simba" (Lion). I stood on my toes but could not see in the grass. She again whispered, "No, there are two—no, three, great heavens, there are nine."

Then they caught sight of us and ran out on a small hill about seventy feet away. There was the most remarkable sight we ever saw among the lions; eight big black-maned fellows and an enormous female. They stood a minute while I frantically set up my cameras, then they trotted off about twenty feet and whirled and stood looking at us, then trotted another twenty feet and turned to watch us curiously again. The remarkable thing about it was that not a lion roared, or snarled, or in any way showed fear or fight, they were merely curious. When we got to the center of the "donga" we found a big bull giraffe that the lions had just pulled down. You can see it all yourself in our picture, "Trailing African Wild Animals," released by Metro, and showing at the New Park last time tonight.

LEO KALUCHA IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Young Brainerd Man, Now Living in Duluth, Survives Injuries Received Tuesday

MANY WITNESSED WILD RACE

Car With Lady Passenger Sped Down Duluth Hill, Leaped Wall and Shattered in Ravine

Leo Kalucha, former Brainerd boy now residing in Duluth, was the central figure in an automobile accident Tuesday which aroused all Duluth. When the crowd came to the shattered car they expected to find the lifeless bodies of Kalucha and a lady companion. Both were severely wounded, but latest reports from the Duluth hospital indicate both are expected to recover.

The Duluth News Tribune of Wednesday had this account of the accident:

Leo Kalucha, 22, 42 Penton boulevard, Riverside, and Margaret Wood, 21, 1018 Seventh-avenue East, were seriously injured at 7:10 p. m. Tuesday, when the car in which they were driving, got beyond their control, dashed from Seventh street at Eighth-avenue East, to Superior street, leaped 100 feet over a 30-foot retaining wall, turned turtle several times in mid-air, cleared the tracks of the Duluth and Iron Range railway, rolled down a ravine, and was smashed to pieces on the rocky shore of Lake Superior.

Both Kalucha and Miss Wood, who were the only occupants of the car, received broken bones and probably internal injuries. Their condition was declared serious by hospital authorities.

In its flight the car narrowly missed several automobiles at street intersections, shot across the double street car tracks on Superior street, and missed by inches an auto driven by Marvin Sandler.

When the ambulance arrived, Miss Wood was attempting to crawl up the steep bank, while Kalucha was still among the wreckage. She gaped to the stretcher bearers, "Never mind me, go after him." Kalucha was picked out of the wreckage, and with Miss Wood, was taken to St. Mary's hospital.

Those who first saw the car in its mad dash, declare that on Fourth street, it had attained a speed of 60 miles an hour. When it passed Superior street, C. L. Muller who was standing in the entrance of the Fisk Service Station at Eighth-avenue East and Superior street, and M. H. Brown, who was walking up the hill from Superior street, at Eighth-avenue, stated that the speed was so great it was impossible to distinguish the occupants.

Miss Jessie Kempton of the Minnesota Civil Service school, who was seated on the porch in the rear of the Hartley estate building, 736-742 East Superior street, asserted that the car was 10 feet in the air when it passed over the retaining wall, making a straight plunge of over 40 feet to the ground.

P. K. Priest, president of the Service Motor company, examined the car and stated that the accident was not caused by any fault in the brakes, gears or rear axle.

Hundreds gathered at the scene of the accident to gaze upon the debris of the car.

Brake Defective
Thursday's Duluth News Tribune stated.

The extent of the injuries to Leo Kalucha, 22, and Margaret Wood, 21, occupants of the car which Tuesday night sped down Eighth-avenue East from Seventh street to Superior street, leaped into the air over a 30-foot stone wall, and was dashed to pieces on the rocks below the Duluth and Iron Range railway tracks, was determined Wednesday by physicians who stated that, beyond severe lacerations, their condition was not serious. Miss Wood and Mr. Kalucha are resting easily at St. Mary's hospital. It is expected that both will return to their homes in a few days.

Kalucha called for Miss Wood at 7 p. m. at her home, 1617 North Seventh-avenue East. He drove up to Eleventh street and then turned east to Eighth-avenue. When the car reached a short distance from the intersection north of Seventh street at Eighth-avenue, the couple noted the failure of the brake to operate. Mrs. Wood, mother of the injured girl stated that they attempted to use every method of bringing the car to a halt.

Could Not Turn

When asked why they did not turn off on one of the other streets, the couple answered that the intersections were crowded with autos and people and that to turn off would have meant serious injury to others.

Both Kalucha and Miss Wood were under the impression that Superior street would be wide enough to permit a sharp turn and their tracks on the street proved that they attempted to swerve from the curb. But the momentum which they had reached by this time was too great to permit the turn and they shot out into space after striking the curb.

Thousands of people crowded the wire fencing Wednesday in front of the huge embankment over which the car plunged, to see the remains of the car, discussing the miraculous escape of its occupants.

FRED JOHNSON IN CHARGE

County Agent E. G. Roth Supervises Work, Alfalfa Plots Show Up Exceptionally Well

The experimental station at the village of Crow Wing is obtaining very good results in its research work with alfalfa, clover and other tame hays.

There are twenty acres in this plot, which is operated by the Crow Wing County Farm in conjunction with the Agricultural College. Fred Johnson is in charge of the farm and County Agent E. G. Roth supervises the work.

The alfalfa plots are showing up exceptionally well, in spite of the dry weather early in the season, thus proving its claim to being a wonderful drought-resisting crop. Much of the clover and other varieties of tame hay have dried out and will make no yields this season.

Some of the experimental plots were treated with lime or marl, and these are much more advanced than adjoining plots not so treated, or that were treated with other kinds of fertilizers.

The first crop of this season is now ready to cut, and it is estimated that it will yield from two to three tons of hay to the acre. This alfalfa was planted only last July, and shows the possibilities from young fields.

Other crops being grown at the experimental field include sweet clover, soy beans, alsike and medium red clovers.

The plots at the station are laid out with both numbers and letters so that close check can be kept on the condition of each. Visitors are always welcome at the station and will be shown the work there by Mr. Johnson.

There are some two hundred new alfalfa fields in the county this year, ranging from those just planted to many in which the stand is six inches in height. The interest that is being shown by farmers in Crow Wing county in this crop is very marked, especially among the dairy farmers.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 19, 1923.

To the Bank Addressed:

You will find herewith a copy of a resolution which was adopted at the thirty-fourth annual convention of this Association on June 8, 1923.

The lowering of interest rate on time deposits is the absorbing topic among bankers all over the State and the resolution which was unanimously adopted sums up some of the reasons for making a change. Like many other movements, the necessity for this change may not be clearly understood by bank depositors, therefore the writer has been instructed to send a copy of this resolution to each bank, with the request that it be given the widest possible publicity.

Will you please see to it that an article is published in your local paper or papers and bring out the facts that the consensus of opinion of bankers from all parts of the State is that safe conservative banking can not be conducted under present conditions if a greater rate than four per cent is paid on time deposits.

Very truly yours,
G. H. RICHARDS, Secretary.

GHR:VR

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, it is very necessary and desirable that lower rates on loans should be charged to assist borrowers, and especially farmers, to liquidate their indebtedness, and
WHEREAS, the Legislature at its recent session reduced the maximum rate that may be legally charged on loans in this State, and
WHEREAS, the rate of interest on good securities and bonds has already declined, and
WHEREAS, the earning power of all banks has been thereby reduced and will be further reduced, and

WHEREAS, the burden of taxation of banks has grown enormously heavy during the last five years and also the banks of this country have suffered unusual losses during that time which must be charged against earnings, and

WHEREAS, the safe investment of our depositors' money is the first and most important essential of sound banking, and

WHEREAS, the interest rate paid on deposits in many sections of Minnesota is appreciably higher than that paid in the most prosperous sections of other agricultural states.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED; that the bankers of Minnesota, in convention assembled, condemn as unsound practice the payment of a higher rate of interest on deposits than can be SAFELY earned and that in their best judgment four per cent per annum is the highest rate that any bank can afford to pay on deposits under present financial conditions if due care and safety are observed in the investment of their customer's deposits, and

HARD RACE ON HUDSON SCHEDULED TODAY

By PAUL R. MALLON
United Press Sports Editor

New York, June 28.—Down in the shadow of the Palisades this evening six university crews are to pull over a three-mile course on the Hudson river at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., in their annual regatta.

The early favorites were Navy, Cornell and Washington, with Columbia, Syracuse and Pennsylvania in second class. The new Navy crew, however, seems to stand out on the basis of dope.

The Columbia crew showed a flash of brilliant speed in early season, but hurt its prestige in losing to Yale. It has been training steadily at Poughkeepsie for weeks, and some of the students of intercollegiate rowing believe it deserves more than allotment in the second division.

Washington's ability is little heralded in the east, but remembering previous three-mile crews turned out there, the east has fearfully named it "dark horse."

The Cornell eight did not come along so well in the early season. The stroke oar was slow and the entire boat did not show the form of 1922. Cornell likewise was defeated by Yale, and lost much of its former confidence.

Connie Mack is playing a game called "pitchers" down in Philadelphia. It is not a new game. Baseball managers have been driven crazy playing it for years.

Mack's game, however, is unique because he thinks he has a winning hand. Rommel, best moundsman on the club in 1922 and seventh best in the whole league, didn't do so well in the first few months of the season. He was not able to win consistently and his failure caused Mack many a heart-ache.

On the other hand, Naylor, who won 10 and lost 15 last year, succeeded in winning seven out of his first eight games. Harris, too, came along in unexpected speed and won half of his early games.

Walberg came from the Giants and, without setting fire to the town, succeeded in building up some new hopes in Connie Mack's mind.

If the pitchers hold out—
If the pitchers don't hold out—
That's the game.

Hibbing, Minn., June 28.—Drivers made good time on a poor track before 5,000 fans from Duluth, Superior and the Iron ranges in automobile races sanctioned by the International Motor Contest association at the fair grounds here, under the auspices of the Elks.

In event No. 1, a division 3 light car race, Claypool was first, Saries second and Petticord third. Time 3:10.

"OUTLAW" STRIKE RETARDS BUILDING

Chicago, June 28.—Construction work on a score or more of new buildings was tied up here today by an "outlaw" strike of laborers caused by I. W. W. agitators.

Laborers were called off jobs in some instances to engage in hand to hand fights between strikers and police who answered riot calls. The strikers demand $1.00 an hour.

Construction stopped includes that on the $6,000,000 municipal stadium. A meeting of the Building Construction Employers' Association has been called to consider the situation.

HOTELKEEPER WINS MILLION ON DERBY AT EPSOM DOWNS

A Plymouth hotelkeeper is the envy of all Britain. He is the hero of one of the most unusual turns of fortune in the British racing history.

Some time before the running of the historic Derby at Epsom Downs he subscribed to three sweepstakes for the races. He drew Papyrus, the 100 to 15 winner of the classic, in each pool. As all the sweepstakes on the Derby are heavily played, indications are that the hotelkeeper collected enough money to place him within striking distance of the millionaire class.

May Beat the Witch Hazel.

A supply of artesian water for an area of 1,000,000 acres of arid country, southeast of Lethbridge, Alberta, was located by an officer of the Dominion Geological survey recently, and the position of the water-bearing strata and its relation to Milk river has been worked out. So that the possibility of finding water at a given point and the depth to which it will be encountered are now known within close limits.

Gathered at Shelby's Funny Corner

Shelby, Mont., June 28.—John Hayes, a Chicago pal of Eddie Kane's, tells how Tom Gibbons' manager acquired the nickname of "Cardinal." According to Hayes, Tom had a fight scheduled for a Friday in New Orleans. After weighing in time, it is the custom for all boxers to tie into a big steak. Hayes, Kane and Gibbons repaired to a restaurant near the gymnasium, and Tom ordered scrambled eggs.

"You don't need to eat eggs," said Kane. "You're training for a fight. Order a good big steak."

The Gibbons twinkle and grin stepped out. Tom nudged Hayes, "Listen to the 'Cardinal,'" he said, "giving out dispensations."

The same Hayes, who is a mortician when he is not following Eddie about the country, is blessed with a mop of ruddy hair. The Montana sunset looks like a pale pink alongside this shock of crimson. "Last Sunday, for want of something better to amuse himself, Hayes secured a horse from rodeo headquarters and went for a gallop.

Main street stood and looked when the uncovered horseman came dashing over the gumbo. Hayes flaming hair stretching in the breeze. Since that time he has been dubbed "Paul Revere."

But Hayes objects to that nickname. "I do a lot of foolish things," he said, "but I never went horseback riding at 2 o'clock in the morning."

Almost the entire outfit connected with the championship fight came to Ireland as a mother country. There's Collins, Gibbons, Kane, Kearns, Dempsey, Tracy, etc., etc. Gibbons' trainer, is of Italian descent, but he has been rechristened. It is now Buck O'Pape.

LEONARD, TENDLER O. K. IN NEW YORK

New York, June 28.—There will be no interference on the part of New York state athletic commission with the bout between Lightweight Champion Benny Leonard and Lew Tendler at the Yankee stadium July 23. This was decided at a meeting of the commission today.

Leonard was suspended by the New Jersey boxing commission because he refused to meet Charlie White in New Jersey under the auspices of Promoter Tex Rickard before going through with the Tendler match. The local commission refused to recognize this suspension on the ground that Leonard's contract with Rickard does not set any particular date for the match with White.

Mr. Deebe is a leading man in the Portal Playhouse company. His bride, Cora Bartlett, is also one of the players.

Dressed in hiking attire, the couple was united in a wooded spot near Excelsior with only a few friends for the wedding, and started their honeymoon by walking to the Pacific coast and back to New York.

HARRY LEGG IS LEADING IN GOLF

Minikahda Club Minneapolis, June 28.—Harry Legg, five times champion of the Trans-Mississippi Golf Association, was five up on Jimmie Manion, St. Louis, on the first 18 holes of the 36-hole championship fight today.

Jimmie Johnston was trailing R. E. Bochenkamp, St. Louis medalist, two down on the 18.

Eddie Heid, 19-year old national public links champion, was nine up on L. A. Thorsen, Interlachen, on today's 18, and W. L. Velle was one up on J. M. Reddick.

All matches today were 36 holes, and winners will meet tomorrow for the right to play in the finals Saturday.

CHAMPIONS IN MARBLE GAMES

(By United Press)

Atlantic City, N. J., June 28.—Sammy Schneider, 11 year old St. Louis expert, and Harlin McCoy, 13, Columbus, Ohio, marble champion, will meet tonight in the finals of the United States Championship.

In the second of the last of the semi-finals today Schneider won three straight from Lloyd Williams of Tacoma Washington, and two out of three from Eugene Clewell of Allentown, Pa.

Harlin won his way into the finals by defeating Clewell three straight and taking two out of three from Williams.

ST. PAUL WANTS BOUT IF SHELBY FALLS DOWN

(By United Press)

St. Paul, June 28.—Jack Reddy and Angus Cameron today offered $200,000 for the Dempsey-Gibbons world's championship bout to be held in St. Paul, in case the Shelby, Mont., promoters are unable to go-through with it.

In a wire to Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey, Reddy is reported to have offered either $200,000 or 50 per cent of the gate.

Reddy is now en route to Shelby, and sent the wire from Valley City, N. D., with Cameron's assent, according to a telegram received here.

Cameron is president of the St. Paul Boxing club.

Rumors were spreading here that the Shelby promoters would not be able to raise the third $100,000 installment for Dempsey by Monday. In some quarters here, however, the move is looked upon as an effort to "smoke up" St. Paul.

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

She Kept Her Locks Dark and Glossy, with Sage Tea and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost, you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, and look years younger.

HARD RACE ON HUDSON SCHEDULED TODAY

By PAUL R. MALLON
United Press Sports Editor

New York, June 28.—Down in the shadow of the Palisades this evening six university crews are to pull over a three-mile course on the Hudson river at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., in their annual regatta.

The early favorites were Navy, Cornell and Washington, with Columbia, Syracuse and Pennsylvania in second class. The new Navy crew, however, seems to stand out on the basis of dope.

The Columbia crew showed a flash of brilliant speed in early season, but hurt its prestige in losing to Yale. It has been training steadily at Poughkeepsie for weeks, and some of the students of intercollegiate rowing believe it deserves more than allotment in the second division.

Washington's ability is little heralded in the east, but remembering previous three-mile crews turned out there, the east has fearfully named it "dark horse."

Gathered at Shelby's Funny Corner

Shelby, Mont., June 28.—John Hayes, a Chicago pal of Eddie Kane's, tells how Tom Gibbons' manager acquired the nickname of "Cardinal."

According to Hayes, Tom had a fight scheduled for a Friday in New Orleans. After weighing in time, it is the custom for all boxers to tie into a big steak.

Hayes, Kane and Gibbons repaired to a restaurant near the gymnasium, and Tom ordered scrambled eggs.

"You don't need to eat eggs," said Kane. "You're training for a fight. Order a good big steak."

The Gibbons twinkled and grin stepped out. Tom nudged Hayes. "Listen to the 'Cardinal,'" he said, "giving out dispensations."

The same Hayes, who is a mortician when he is not following Eddie about the country, is blessed with a mop of ruddy hair. The Montana sunset looks like a pale pink alongside this shock of crimson.

Last Sunday, for want of something better to amuse himself, Hayes secured a horse from rodeo headquarters and went for a gallop.

Main street stood and looked when the uncovered horseman came dashing over the gumbo, Hayes flaming hair stretching in the breeze. Since that time he has been dubbed "Paul Revere."

But Hayes objects to that nickname. "I do a lot of foolish things," he said, "but I never went horseback riding at 2 o'clock in the morning."

Almost the entire outfit connected with the championship fight claim Ireland as a mother country. There's Collins, Gibbons, Kane, Kearns, Dempsey, Tracy, etc., etc. Buck Tape, Gibbons' trainer, is of Italian descent, but he has been rechristened. It is now Buck O'Pape.

LEONARD, TENDLER O. K. IN NEW YORK

New York, June 28.—There will be no interference on the part of New York state athletic commission with the bout between Lightweight Champion Benny Leonard and Lew Tandler at the Yankee stadium July 23. This was decided at a meeting of the commission today.

Leonard was suspended by the New Jersey boxing commission because he refused to meet Charlie White in New Jersey under the auspices of Promoter Tex Rickard before going through with the Tandler match. The local commission refused to recognize this suspension on the ground that Leonard's contract with Rickard does not set any particular date for the match with White.

St. Paul Wants Bout If Shelby Falls Down

(By United Press)
St. Paul, June 28.—Jack Reddy and Angus Cameron today offered $200,000 for the Dempsey-Gibbons world's championship bout to be held in St. Paul, in case the Shelby, Mont., promoters are unable to go through with it.

In a wire to Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey, Reddy is reported to have offered either $200,000 or 50 per cent of the gate.

Reddy is now en route to Shelby, and sent the wire from Valley City, N. D., with Cameron's assent, according to a telegram received here.

Cameron is president of the St. Paul Boxing club.

Rumors were spreading here that the Shelby promoters would not be able to raise the third $100,000 installment for Dempsey by Monday. In some quarters here, however, the move is looked upon as an effort to "smoke up" St. Paul.

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost, you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, and look years younger.

Chinese Soldiers Taught Ferocity.

One of the "secrets of victory" taught to Chinese soldiers follows: "The enemy must be killed; if the rifle is broken, use the butt; if the butt is broken, use the fist; if the fist is disabled, use the teeth."
